Ambition, hardwork, completed goals

Beaver totem...

The Beaver totem reminds us that we have to act on our dreams to make them a reality.

If this totem has entered your life, ask yourself:

Have I been neglecting my dreams?

Am I lost in my dreams and not acting upon them?

The Beaver reminds us that we have to act on our dreams to make them a reality. Beaver can show you how to construct wonderful dreams!

If you are a beaver person, do not neglect your dental care. Dental care is essential for those with the beaver totem.

A Beaver also sets the example of teamwork. Dreams are easier to build with a team helping.

Beavers help with...

- Clearer understanding of our subconscious thoughts and dreams
- Ability to mold our thoughts more constructively to suit our needs
- Determination to follow our dreams
- Diligence to keep and reach our goals
- Balance and flexibility concerning ourselves and our expectations

Beaver dreams...

Dreaming a beaver illustrates hard, assiduous work for completing a task or completing a goal, especially if the animal is building a dam in your dream. Therefore, if your dream is populated by a beaver then you should grow aware of the fact that you must strive harder to be unbeaten in your work. You must spend lots of effort and energy to build up your life the right way and must not surrender if the odds are not encouraging all the time. You must understand that there are good times and bad times also, but being arduous and determined helps you overcome any obstacle.

On the other hand, if the beaver is working in the dream, but lacks enthusiasm, this may mean that the goals you have set are badly chosen or are of a dreamlike quality; they may not be the goals you should be attaining.

The beaver also stands for community and group work, therefore it is an indicator of the fact that working by yourself all the time is not the best choice. The individual who dreams a beaver should consider asking help from friends or colleagues and become a team person. The support of the ones around you may play a crucial role in your way towards success.

To see a beaver building a dam, symbolizes ambition and that hard work is necessary to achieve your own goals. It may be time to put your ideas into action and settle any differences with fellow coworkers and friends. In isolating yourself from these people, you will find it difficult to attain your goals. The support of people around you are important.

Beaver symbolizes...

Beavers are resourceful builders, creating megalith dams that can change the flowing course of entire rivers.

The beaver tells us to believe in our dreams as if they were real. Build on them as if the dream is your reality. Change the course of your life flow by re-structuring your life with a goal to make your dreams into physical reality.
